A SIMPLER TIME

Well, clearly life for everyone has changed but as all of us that work with livestock know, the show must go on and being able to see foals born daily has proven a real tonic.

On April 4 we welcomed another absolute queen into the world: a daughter of Roaring Lion and dual Gr.1 winner Simple Verse. Isn't this picture by Sarah Farnsworth just fantastic?

FOLLOW THE FOALS #5

As an Easter treat, we released a brand new episode of #FollowtheFoals in association with Ascot Racecourse and Equine Productions. Episode 5 shows how the foals – now yearlings – have progressed over the winter. Don't worry if you missed this video or the Tweenhills tour as you can view them (and more!) at tweenhills.com/media.

TWEENHILLS TOUR

Equine Productions TV's Aly Vance joined David Redvers and the team at a blustery Tweenhills on Easter Monday for a video tour broadcast live on the internet.

Pictured is young Freddie Ford – son of designer and long-time Tweenhills collaborator James Ford – who would apparently like David to home tutor him next term!

STAFF PROFILE

Milo Herbert
Stud Hand

Milo, tell us about yourself...

Well, I grew up in Abergavenny and wanted to be a jockey from an early age or perhaps a huntsman. Thankfully, I got there as a jockey and have had 10 winners from around 60 rides as an Amateur – however, I'm 6ft 4 so sadly it can't go on forever.

You were at Tom George's before Tweenhills?

Yes, I started at Tom's in January but Coronavirus intervened; Tom put me in touch with David Redvers and I joined Tweenhills recently. I learnt plenty at Tom's and even got to ride dual Grade 1 winner The World's End. My favourite horse though would have to be my own Risk And Roll on whom I won two hunter chases earlier in the year.

What else should we know about Milo?

I'm going to Exeter University in September to read Politics – I'd say my parents sparked my interest. My favourite TV program without a doubt is Peaky Blinders. I listen to plenty of podcasts and absolutely love 'That Peter Crouch Podcast'.

Fenella Redvers makes a new friend!

The team social distancing whilst putting the creep feeders up – not sure they've quite got the hang of it yet though!
